It is difficult to summarize the particular characteristics of an individual, however, I feel that this professor is a valuable resource for the academic community. Thus, whatever shortcomings may or may not be experienced during the semester, I am appreciative of the experience.

Strengths:

- A lot of accommodation for the level class overall is at
- Good feedback on homework exercises
- Material is very well motivated

Weaknesses:

- At some places ^{deviation} ~~at~~ from the book it made things more confusing (but encouraged reading)

The course was very informative and it feels like we covered a lot of material. The classes were challenging and at times felt difficult due to the speed. The teacher was very helpful though, and graded fairly. I like that it seemed like he graded homework very carefully and wrote comments all over them. Computability + Turing machines was the best part of the class! Thanks! 😊

Too Rush, could have spent more time on examples to make sure the content is understood before moving to the next topic.

Always willing to help with HW, which is very nice
I liked how the class was structured.

Has a very good attitude towards logic

Very fair and kind grader and provides helpful comments on hw problems.

I like his notes and teaching style.
He's very patient with questions about notes and homework and answers them very well and very clearly.

Clear understanding of material above and beyond textbook, demonstrated through willingness and ability to answer all manner of questions.

As a student, I sometimes found it difficult to translate instruction into concrete problem-solving tools; perhaps a little more direction on this would be helpful.
