Good teacher. Interesting material, presented well for the most part. Overall very good, I only have two suggestions. First, the lectures at times could have been slightly better prepared. Second, the presentations were far too easy!

The one semester course was like a survey of a wide breadth of topics. It included many historical notes of who and when the theorems were proved and in what context.

I do prefer text books and homework exercise from the book because then all the necessary information is contained in the book. This course satisfied the requirement of a text book by supplying multiple online notes.

Dr Ross is really good on the board.
He explains the material clearly.
More homework ~~was~~ have been nice.
(for feedback).

Knowledgable, Energetic.

Made the class accessable even to those not knowledgable in the subject.

Nice range of topics.
